

Removing Old Proxy Settings

Important Information

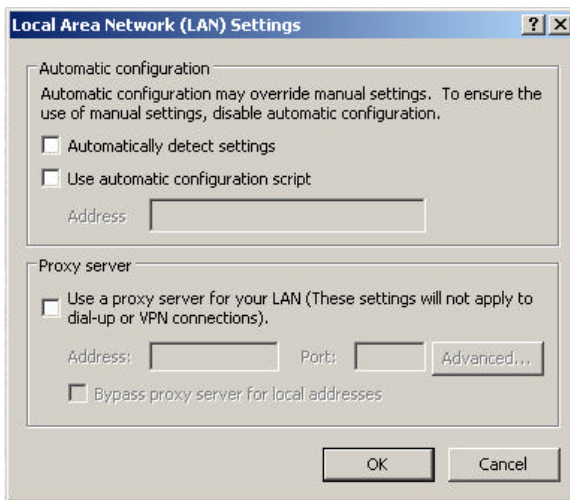

Proxy is no longer required for connecting to off-campus websites. Here is how to remove any proxy settings you may have in your web browser.

Internet Explorer

Click on “Tools”, then “Internet Options”. It should look like this.

Click on the Tab marked “Connections”, then click the button marked “LAN Settings”. The window should appear like this.

Remove any checkmarks for these settings. If there is an option for "Direct Connection to the Internet", choose that.

Click “OK”. Restart your browser. You should now be able to get to all available websites.

Tips and Troubleshooting

Once all these steps have been followed you should be able to browse to any website that you choose. If you have followed these instructions and are still having problems you can get help by calling the Technology Helpdesk at 677-2964
